Together we
Create district and school Title I Family Engagement Policies to promote shared responsibility and to increase and enhance the collaboration of district and school staff with parents.

Our efforts will be focused on improving the education of all students in an innovative way that will help them become lifelong learners who will be able to be successful and compete in an ever changing world.

District and schools plans are created by the APS Family Advisory Council and 90 Day School Planning team that meet throughout the year. The teams guides family engagement strategies across the district and in Title I schools. They look at best practices and data from APS Title I Family Engagement Survey https://sites.google.com/aps.edu/sapf/dashboard to guide conversations and decisions. You are welcome to attend.

We want your ideas
Families and community members are invited to participate in the Title I Family Advisory Council meetings, share your ideas with your school Family Liaison or communicate your needs or concerns with school staff.

What is Title I?
Title I is the largest federal aid program for schools in the United States. Title I provides federal funds to schools with moderate to high percentages of low-income students. These funds provide extra educational services to help at-risk students achieve and succeed regardless of any disadvantages through no fault of their own.

APS, Title I provides the coordination, technical assistance, and other support necessary to assist and build the capacity of all participating schools in planning and implementing effective family involvement activities to improve student academic achievement and school performance. This includes meaningful consultation with employers, business leaders, and philanthropic organizations, or individuals with expertise in effectively engaging family members in education (ESSA Section 1116[a][2][B]).
